

A GUIDE TO WAUPACA TRAILS, CONTINUED
COMPETITION TRAILS

Now as we continue down the trail, we come to the competition trails. Further down the trail, the trail splits into three forks: the regular competition trail, the tribal competition trail, and the BLUE and WHITE WAR trail. The first fork, the regular competition fork, is the largest. It is traveled everyday by all the campers. The camp is divided into three leagues: American League (cabins one through four) National league (cabins five through ten), and Federal League (cabins eleven through C.I.T.). Each day (except Sunday) they would compete within divisions. At the end of four weeks, the winners of each division received root beer floats.

Let's all follow the trail to find out about Competition 1970.

WHITES

WAR

After five days of fierce competition the WHITE team's flag was raised for the last time and the sound of "Watermelon" echoed for the last time. The WHITE team's strength and spirit boosted them to rousing victory.

The war ended with the Super-Duper Relay which was won by the W H I T E team.

Altogether the war was an enjoyable final week for both teams. We congratulate both teams for their fine sportsmanship and their all-out effort.
