Cabins

When boys come to camp they seldom realize that they spend most of their time in the cabin. It is the place you go to when you sleep, unless you are lucky enough to go on a camp-out. It is the place you spend rest hour & write letters home. It may be the place you hear spooky stories from your counsellors, or tell your fish stories to your cabin mates. It is "home" for the eight weeks or four weeks that you are here.

On Cabin Nights you make a fire & grill hot dogs & marshmallows with your cabin mates then have an evening of activities. The playaks, canoes, Capture the Flag, the Waterfall or a big night out to the movies or miniature golf, pizza or bowling. Wow! The following pages are the reflections of the campers of themselves and their cabins.

Remember the friends you made and the fun you had? Keep in touch with the guys in your cabin. Some could become life long friends.

CABIN ARTICLES

CABIN 1:

When did it all begin? The one thing unique about cabin one this year was that not only was this the first camp experience for the kids, but also the counsellors, Jeff Fortin and Gordy Adams. We learned from the kids many things as they in turn learned from us.

Our eight-weekers this year were Jason Schwartz, John Hellerman, Andy Pfau, Josh Meyers, Ron Sklare, and David Euer. These were the kids who were brave enough to put up with many exciting ghost stories. Our only first four weeker was Adam Fleischer.

Second four-weekers were: Ted Sirota, David Nieman, and Andy Diengott. Our C.I.T.'s were Brian Vinet and Mike Roskin. Thanks for all their help.

From cabin one came many good athletes. They all won numerous "Player-of-the-day" awards in competition, not to mention all kinds of medals in the 1978 Camp Olympics.

Many exciting things happened. On the first cabin night we had pizza and played Pee Wee Golf. The second cabin night we again had Pizza and saw a good movie called The Jungle Book. Other cabin nights found us involved in long hard battles of Capture the Flag and some remarkable softball games. Other fun nights were camping out. We would like to thank Wayne Towne for that.

The programs were excellent! The summer of '78' was one I'm sure none of us will forget. We've all made some good friends and have seen some spectacular events. We only hope the kids had one half as much fun as we did.

Thanks guys for a great summer!!!

CABIN 2:

Greetings from Cabin 2. It has been a fun summer. Members of our cabin are: Mike Cohen, Bob Gross, David Mallen, Greg Prebish, David Reinstein, Marc Roskin, Aandy Rudich, and Donnie Schnaire. Our counsellors are: Larry Gordon and Jeff Pierce. Our C.I.T.'s are: Robert Garfinkle and Brian Vinet.

Interesting things that happened this summer were: The night we went into town for pizza and to see the movie Jungle Book; Larry Gordon's daily clean-up tantrum; Brian Vinet's impossible wake-up; Robert Garfinkle's 24 hours of "Grease".

Gold Rush Day found us presenting a puppet play about Grease. The props fell apart during the second performance leaving us laughing but embarrassed.

We will long remember having to run bases late at night because we couldn't keep quiet and go to sleep.

Cabin 2 has had lots of fun and will carry home many great memories of Camp Waupaca and its great activities.

CABIN 3:

During the first four weeks there were six campers and two counsellors. Their name's were: David Barr, Ken Lapins, Rick Garfinkle, Jason More, and Bobby Frank. The counsellor's were Ted Haberman and Pete Jones. The C.I.T. was Dave Weindling.

For a rainy day activity we went to see The Castaways. The high point of the first four weeks was the Olympics. We were divided up among eight countries. We all had fun. On the first parents day, Bobby Frank went home. We were all sorry to see him leave.

The second four weekers arrived on July 24. They were Bill Hoffman, David Metz, Greg Kreger, and Todd Zirlin. Luckily, we got another C.I.T. in addition to Dave. His name was Lee Miltack. All the eight-weekers were happy the fifth week because their parents were coming and many brought care packages and games. For Golf Rush Day our cabin had Mini-Golf. On cabin night, once we went to Stevens Point and saw the movie Jungle Book. Another time we went boating and we all had a great time. We are sorry to see camp end. We made alot of new friends and we hope to see them all at the reunion.

CABIN 4:

Members of cabin 4 are: Joseph Berman, Scott Bortz, Derek Dobrin, Howie Goldberg, David Goldman, David Kaplan, Steve Michaels, Scott Simons, Jeff Spagat, and Vic Swerdlow. Our counsellors are: Ken Harwood and Erv Kasian. We have a C.I.T. named "Bummer". (Howard Bramson) Erv Kasian is a great story teller. Our Mascot is "Squeeky".

The cabin loved going camping with Wayne Towne; going to town to see Zorro and the Jungle Book; and the many camp programs that we were in.

Well that's all for cabin 4.

CABIN 5:

It was alot of fun in Cabin 5 this year. Boys in our cabin were: Brian Rosenberg, who always gave comics to everyone, Lee Roth - who slept with a dog, Jeff Pearl - he moved after 11 days, David Grossman, and Donny Schwartz. David and Donny became real good friend.

The second four weeks brought new faces and personalities. They were: Don Zirland - who always asked for comics and told lots of jokes at night; Ken Marx - he fell asleep all the time; Dan Mostovoy - he got sick alot; Danny Greenstein - didn't talk much in the cabin; and Jeff Auerbach - who was in lots of fights. Jason Gorchow was also in our cabin and was best friends with Lee Roth, another member of our cabin.

and Danny Greenstein

CABIN 6:

We arrived at camp on two Grayhound Busses and met our counsellors Mike Euer - who is the Assistant Camp Director and Mark Lui - who teaches swimming at the waterfront. Our C.I.T.'s are: Steve Lasin and Dan Schaffer. Boys in our cabin are: Mike Fine, Gregg Gaffen, Steve Glenner, David Glick, Steve Goldblatt, Jon Myers, Kevin Schulman, David Silbar, and Kevin Walpert.

Cabin nights were great. On the first night we canoed into big Lake Stratton and tried to canoe down a small creek. We found a kitten and carried him along with us on our hike along the lake. After our canoe trip we returned to camp and printed all the Sport Spectacular shirts. The second cabin night arrived and Manny let us go to town for pizza and to see the movie "FM". After the movie we went to the Dairy Queen and then back to camp. The third cabin night we had a cook out and participated with cabins 1, 2, 3, and 4 in the Wheaties Sports Program. Many of our campers won awards.

Cabin 6 came in second for our Gold Rush Day Booth. We had a BB Gun Range, Dart Toss, and a test of skill with wires and batteries. We had a great time giving away Gold Rush money.

Our last big trip was to the Water Falls. We lost three shoes and had fun sliding out of the water.

We can hardly wait until next summer because this year has been great.

CABIN 7:

Cabin 7 had a fun summer. Our counsellors are Paul Warshauer and Ray Meyer. Boys in cabin 7 were: Steve Altman, Loren Cohen, Mike Davis, Joel Feiger, Joel Feinstein, Neil Orloff, Keith Ross, Craig Steinberg, Joshua Sorkin, and Glen Traeger. Scott Heiman was in our cabin for the first four weeks.

CABIN 8:

Cabin 8 was a very interesting cabin this year. Dave Simon, Kurt Heyman, Rich Price, Mike Greenberg, Brad Polan and Dan Vishny had some remarkable cabin nights going for pizza and bowling in town and going playaking at camp on Lake Stratton. Our C.I.T. Dan Shaffer was the best in camp but we lost him for the second four weeks along with all the campers except Vishny and Polan.

During the second four weeks the following boys joined our cabin: Andy Danz, Steve Doppelt, Larry S. Kirsch, Steve Levin, Howard Metz, Gary Savin, Barry Schnair, and Bradley Schwartz. Curt Calkins entertained our cabin with his balancing acts; and musical numbers by Brad Schwartz and the Tidy Bowl men playing on the electric tennis racket provided background.

The campouts were excellent except for some trouble Brad Schwartz and Steve Doppelt had with big white spiders in their tent. All in all it was an enjoyable summer.

CABIN 9:

Cabin 9 had an incredible year, with special kids and lots of great activities. We went stargazing one night, and the meteor shower was fantastic. We loved pizza parties, staying up late and reading with flashlights, backgammon, and adventures on the old beach. (Mike never found the clothes we used for dummies in our beds) We heard and sang all the songs from "Grease" so many times that all of us (except Rob Gerowitz) knew the words by heart. We won Gold Rush Day with the most original booth, a tattooing and face painting service.

We had a great time running around camp doing everything, and sometimes doing nothing, but the best part was the people. David Alpert played "Sandra Dee" 5,281 times, including 50 in a row, and only stopped when the counselors threatened to burn the tape; he also had the whole camp saying "It's horrendous!" in his own inimitable way. David Kregar loved the tickle treatment and was the best monopoly player in camp. Jeff Bornstein loved fishing, cabin cleanup and saying "Don't Worry"; Jeff had a lot of strange adventures on the way to the infirmary one night, and befuddled Cliff Hawkins with a secret weapon against the tickle torture.

Kip Poncher was always sailing, except when he was water skiing. He loved the water so much he was always spraying people with the faucet - until he drenched a counselor's bunk. Noel Zweig thumbed through lots of picture magazines (what kind we won't say) and was restless all night. Larry J. Kirsoh loved swimming class - is he crazy? Eric Kaplan was chief editorial writer for the Camp Waupaca Herald Tribune. Andy Slavitt made the Federal League and always mumbled all night in his sleep - no connection, we presume. Scott Dimond won bushels of canteens for his skyshooting in Archery class. Mike Licari is a future mountaineer who loves the wilds - he likes roughing it so much he always wanted the fan on no matter how cold it was. Aaron Sussman stayed healthy and fished a lot and wisecracked all day. As for Brian Fishman - what can we say about him.

CABIN 10:

Our cabin was clearly the best cabin during the 2nd. four weeks. Our cabin consisted of Greg Berke - the messiest kid in camp, Kurt "Boxtop" Heyman, Gary Lipkin - the Lip, Greg "Smiley" Braun, Karamath Khan, Eric Gelber, Paul Harris, Howard Rosenblum, David Lewis - the neatest kid in camp, and Richard Novak. Our counsellors were Rich Turiel and John Schmitt.

On our 1st cabin night we played Capture the Flag with Cabin 12. On our 2nd cabin night we went to town looking for the "Great American Foxes" and we saw the movie "FM". On our 3rd cabin night we went to the Water Falls.

All of us knew each other except for Paul Harris, Howard Rosenblum, and Eric Gelber. At the beginning Paul Harris was shy, but that ended after the 1st week. On the other hand, Howard Rosenblum was talkative the 1st day. Eric Gelber was already picking fights when he got here.

We had the best counsellors in camp. The only time they would get mad at us was when we would get 70's in cabin clean-up. Greg Berke had a 15 lb. waterballoon.

CABIN 11:

This was an excellent year for our cabin. We had a super - gray hair - counsellor named Ron Lavine. We also had a super C.I.T. - well maybe not so super - by the name of Andy Sirota. If he wasn't sleeping past noon he was shaving his imaginary whiskers. We had alot of fun every night of camp, this summer. If we weren't hearing a tape, we were listening to one of Ron's super stories or playing an interesting game. We had really great kids in our cabin like Shaun Lieber who had his own day were everyone saluted him at Flagpole. Shaun still insists that he was safe in that softball game three weeks ago. Ross Much who was also in our cabin all 8 weeks and kept us laughing when we were down - we looked at his hair. And even though we would have to lie on the floor to accomplish this, we all looked up to "Little John Rubiner!" - with his bad jokes and his protesting to stack - we made it through the summer with him.

Jon Shulman and Mike Greenberg both came into our cabin the second 4 weeks but they were still 8 weekers. Mike Greenberg was nicknamed "The Bear" by Mike Lurie and always contributed to our cabins conservations. "Punky" Shulman or "Piston" (JOKE, JOKE) should receive the award for "I can't do that, my leg hurts." He added lots of laughs to our cabin the second four weeks and bored us all with his baseball facks. Larry Klinsky was the funnier 1/9 of our cabin. Still able to talk faster than a computer can print, Larry razzle dazzled us on the sports fields. And he was just an overall nice guy. Who could forget good old R-2 Reinstein-2 who didn't like Jeff Rissman taking is toothpaste all the time, but was very funny and helpful. He was the muscles of our cabin and wins the "Allen Steinmetz Award" or "Chubby." And last and least (only kidding) Mike Weindling supplied us with Richie Rich's - until they suddenly disappeared. He was a great kid and friend in our cabin.

CABIN 12:

What a cabin. We did anything and everything. Even though our cabin was probably the worst cabin in camp and had the worst reputation we still (the cabin members) had a great time. We will always remember Marty Venit and Mike Monttelto our two counsellors. We will also always remember going to town and seeing Star Wars, eating pizza, getting delicious Dairy Queen, and last but not least, buying food up to $2.00 at a store. We had a cabin party with the food one night.

We will always remember the kids in our cabin: Craig Bernstein, Mike Bortz, Vic Cohen, James Horowitz, Joel Kaplan, Mike Lambert, Mike Mandell, Bruce Thau, Jeff Warman, Todd Weingardt, and Steve Zimansky.
