

FIRST FOUR WEEKERS

SECOND FOUR WEEKERS

CABIN TEN-Chippewa

The 1980 season for Cabin Ten has been a good one. The first four weeks consisted of Ron Levinson, whose knickname was Animal. Blaine Feldstein loved to make new friends. The eight weekers consisted of Jordan Klein, Mr. Good Guy, Jason More, Mr. Trouble, John Riff, Mr. Piano, Harold Pine, Mr. Leader. The second four weekers were Todd Zirlin, Squirlin. Mike Fine, Igor, Jeff Dubofsky, known as Dufus, Steve Price, Scott Diamond, and Blake Levine.

The eight weeks were great fun. We raided the kitchen, slept in the Tee Pee and in the second four we slept on the soccer fields. These things would not have been possible if it wasn't for our great counsellors, Tim Mukand, and Preston Gordon. (Tim, you're a great coach and Preston, you're a great mechanic).

We hope all the members of our cabin had a great year and come back next year.

By John Riff

CABIN ELEVEN-Navajo

Once upon a time in a cabin far away...There were eleven great campers, a good CIT and a great counsellor. The campers the first four were Scott Silverman, David Barr, David Kennedy, Stephen Master, Jon Abt, and Jeff Veltman. Steve Prebish our great CIT, Ron Lavine, and our part time counsellor Dick Garb made the summer really fine.

Our first cabin nite we went playaking. The second cabin nite we went swimming. The third we left camp and went into town. We went to a beach where we dove off the high dive, slid off a giant slide, went to Miniature golf, the Dairy Queen, pizza and watched a few innings of a girls softball game.

At night we played games- listened to a tape or one of Ron's stories. We had a great first four but were sorry when it was over. We said goodbye to Jon, Jeff, and Steve.

The next day the two big Greyhounds rolled in and brought new campers. Our cabin now had Jeff Shamberg, Rick Fradin, Barry Munic, Mike Manelis, Mike Schectman, and Scott Silverman, Dave Barr, and Dave Kennedy.

When we went into town we went to the same beach. We then made thick steaks, went bowling, and saw the Empire Strikes Back.

We had a miniature golf course for Gold Rush and had lots of fun.

We owe a lot to Ron and Steve. We thank them it was a fantastic year.

By Scott Silverman

CABIN TWELVE-Winnebago

Nothing could be finer than to be in Cabin 12 in the morning. We were a second four week cabin and had two great counsellors, Paul Rosengarten and Gary Boldt. We also had a hilarious CIT, Joey Gan and eight super campers David Kaplan, David Goldman, Joey Berman, Kim Greenwood, Steve Block, Ken Kramer, Dan Mostovoy, and David Lasker. Some of us had nicknames like Joey, who was Stretch or Eight Ball. Paul Rosengarten as Rosie. Joey Berman was casanova.

We had many exciting times. For Gold Rush we had a night club including the Beatles (Joey, Steve, Joe, and Ken), the Blues Brothers (Gary and Ken), Kinks (Kim, Dan, Dave Kaplan, and Joe Berman), and Billy Joel (Joe Gan) When we went to town we saw the Empire, went for dinner at Merrimacs, and went to the Dairy Queen. Before the movie we had some time to kill so we went and played some pinball at the Windmill.

We had lots of entertainment in the cabin, too. Electronic games, various tapes of music, and a large library selection.

We would stay up late at night and our counsellors would let us read. Sometimes we had snacks.

We won the Counsellor hunt this year and got 9-100's in Clean-Up.

Cabin 12 was all around a well developed cabin.

By Joey Berman & The Noodnicks

CABIN FOURTEEN-Cheyenne

From the moment the busses arrived at Camp Waupaca we knew we were in store for a great summer. The first four weeks the cabin consisted of Kevin Schulman, Loren Roseman, Eric Gould, Jay Goldstein, Don Schwartz, Dan Greenstein, Rob Ezsak, Joel Feinstein, and Rick Garfinkle. We had two great counsellors, Phil Goldberg and Tony, "the mad virgin" Edmonds. We had a lot of fun times like raiding the kitchen and making a campfire on the Rugby fields. There was always an exciting episode of Cap-i-tan Cockroach (alias: Kevin Schulman). The first four weeks went by very fast. We then had to bid farewell to Eric, Loren, Kevin, and Jay.

The next batch brought new faces and personalities into the cabin with Judd Feldman, Greg Weissman, Jeff Shapiro, Larry Kirsch, and Howie Goldberg. Camp was changed for the better cause now it was filled.

The Early Bird trip left the 6th week It was great & those of us who went would like to thank Manny for another excellent trip.

By Don Schwartz & Dan Greenstein

CABIN FIFTEEN-Arapaho

There was never a dull moment in Cabin 15 this year. We had Perry "Cat" Goldberg, Jackie "talk to people while they're asleep" Sirajullah, Greg "Magazine supplier" Richman, Kenny "tapes" Lapins, Howard "Chuck's favorite" Malitz, David "Read-a-lot" Buyer, and Alan "break your glasses, again?" Hochman, all as campers the first four weeks. Our counsellors were John "Chicks love it" Schmitt, Chuck "get your jollies from the staff game" Anfield, and Jim "blue toes" Wegener.

Our cabin won the Clean-Up the first four weeks and set a camp record for elevens in a row. The highlights of the first four were going into town and getting the pizza Dairy Queen treats, and seeing the Empire Strikes Back.

The second four week campers were Howard "pick up the cat and get sick" Topel, David "nurf ball" Glick, Mark "Pirate fan" Santiago, and Brian "Grafitti" Rosenberg. We were very sad when John left and we miss him a lot. Everyone was sorry to see him go and hope he is doing well in Colorado. One night we raided Cabin 12 who later got their revenge that night. On Cabin night we broke up into two groups. One went to the movie and the other went bowling.

For Gold Rush we had an arcade with the airplane toss, can knockdown, and the penny pitch. We had an occasional visitor, Mohammed, the cat. It was funny when Brian ate the Friskies. We had a great time and thank our counsellors for all the fun we had.

By Kenneth D. Lapins &
Brian F. Rosenberg

C. I. T. VILLAGE

The CITs never had it so good this year. We had a great bunch of campers and two terrific counsellors, Warren Metz-dorff, (veteran of an early war) and Ray Krysh, (who started his rifle career as a target). There were four cabins in use in the Village, A, B, C, & F. (Cabin D was Froggies old Cabin, but he moved across camp). Cabin A consisted of Greg "Mr. Clean Up" Berke, Jeff "Superstar" Rissman, Allan "Mad Vocalist" Gilbert, and Eric "Rover who's all over" Kaplan. Cabin C had Steve "Mr. POD" Reitmeister, Rick "what do you think now that I am a scoring threat" Goldman, and Scott "still Schleprock after all these years" Dimond. Cabin F had Art "Schmoto" Reinstein, Dan "Mr. Eyebrow" Vishny, Brad "don't sweat it" Polan, and Aaron "who took the Mmmm out of Murine?" Sussman. The second four saw two more CITs get off the bus, Phil "boss robe" Telpner, and Mike "Oh my God, theres a fly in the Cabin!" Shapiro.

(CIT article continued next page)

The CIT Village did a lot and had a great summer. We went to town 7 times seeing movies such as the Blues Brothers, Fame, the Empire, and others. We really got around the area hitting Stevens Point, Waupaca and all points in between. The second week of camp the CITs went to the Wisconsin State Fair/Rodeo at Manawa. There was a parade through town that we watched. Afterwards we had a little trouble finding seats, but we managed and watched the show and admired the "big beautiful Winston scoreboard.

Between the first and second four we all went to the Portage County Fair to see Paul Warshauer in the demo derby. But to our distress, Paul's car, the Frogmobile conked out. But we had a terrific time on the rides and especially the ride.

For Gold Rush we had the Village Arcade complete with skee ball, squirt the candles, electronic games, and others. Everyone had fun setting up the arcade, running it, and seeing the other great booths & shows.

Finally the last week of camp the CITs took a 25 mile canoe trip down the Waupaca River. It was a challenging experience because there were rock gardens, fast and high water rapids, and even some swamps. The trip taught us how to canoe better and how to get along under stress. Also the last week we went to the Oakwood for a final banquet of our own. We had a great dinner then went to see the Blues Brothers and do some shopping.

The whole Village enjoyed this year and everyone is glad they came. We stuck together as friends even tho we were constantly divided up into competition teams. And we hope that most of us will come back next year.

By Scott Dimond, Rick Goldman, &
Steve Reitmeister & Phil Telpner

CABIN C. I. T.'s

We are writing this article because the Cabin CITs are a breed apart and deserve special mention. (Besides, we want to get our names in the Yearbook again) We'll go in alphabetical order. Harry Barnett was the only rookie this year but adapted well to camp life. There were only a few things Harry couldn't get used to: No phone calls, no TV, and no refills at the Coke machine. Our next CIT was Joey Gan, who is as normal as the next guy. Providing the next guy lives in the state sanitarium. But kidding aside, Joey was alright. Sometimes he would turn to his friend, Stretch Armstrong for comfort. It was a sad day when Stretch died--it was as tho a part of Joey died.

(Cabin CIT article continued on next page)

We weren't sure we should include Mike Hollobow because he's a J. C., but we realized Mike acts just as stupid as the rest of us, altho you won't catch him admitting it. Mike's favorite movie is Brian's Song, not because its a touching film, but because he likes hearing the name "Brian Piccolo."

Steve Kramer is a prime suspect in any mystery movie. He's always behind something Whether it is a camera or one of the camp's many guns or the handles of a mini-bike. Mr. Pop-Up (aka Steve Prebish) was our own camp's psychic. Steve shoed the camp a display of coaching like its never been seen before like when his Tribe team finished fifth (out of four).

This brings us to Sy Sussman. Sy is probably the least temperamental of the Cabin CITs showing his temper only when his baseball hat is tampered with. Sy's Tribe team came in first, (will he ever let us forget it? Despite his batting average, 24th on the list, he still says, "I'm 24th but try harder."

This year's season was chocked with fun experiences. However some of these experiences cannot be listed. If Manny found out he may not let us come back to camp, and that is something that all of us look forward to.

Writer: Sy Sussman
Yes man: Steve Prebish

CABIN FIVE

Cabin Five was great this year. The first four weekers were Michael "C3PO" Ash, Dan "R2D2" Fuhrman, Mike "Hochburger" Hochman, Gary "Woody Allen" Schotz, and Howie Schaffer, "Mr. Smiles." Eight weekers included Jeff "Tiny" Zeinfeld, Josh "the Boss" Myers. Our CIT, Harry Barnett kept us on our toes. Our counsellors Mark Menacker and Mike Lurie were really super. On Cabin Night we went to Stevens Point to see the Empire. We also had Pizza and Dairy Queen.

Who could forget Dan with his turtles. He was funny. Mike Ash always had his eyes in a book and seemed to know evrything. What about the treat we got before the Olympics. All in all we had fun in the summer of 1980.