

Skiing

Waterskiing, as usual, was the most popular activity at camp this summer. With the cooperation of the great Waupaca weather, nearly all campers improved their skills on skis.

Pulling the skiers were our ever faithful boats: "The Stinger" and "Bacon Lips." Driving the boats was our ever faithful water ski staff: Steve Stolz, Ken Taylor, Cody Kasten, Lars Rahm, Bill Thien, Scott Stusek, and Kevin Doxtator.

The following boys either learned to ski for the first time this summer or continued to improve their skills on two skis:

Jon Goldman	Adam Kooperman	Steve Pearlman
Alan Genender	Steve Brown	Eric Robin
Matt Wanty	Chad Rosenberg	Ed Schotz
Benji Schwartz	Brian Friedman	Steve Smith
Scott Cohen	Matt Brown	Bobby Pine
Jordan Levinson	Adam Goldstein	Sam Green
Brett Robinson	Adam Silverman	Neil Rosenblum
Steve Goldberg	Brian Fields	Doug Burke
Mike Orzoff	Scott Siegal	Josh Silverstein
Paul Frank	Chuck Garfien	Sam Frank
Brad Rabin	Alan Kaplan	Eric Ocrant
Larry Shneider	David Spiwak	Mike Chernoff
Steve Blevit	Brad Waxman	Jeff Kaplan
Mitch Weisman	Matt Glass	Doug Shabelman
David Melam	Adam Schwartz	Scott Hershman
Jon Greenspahn	Steve Weinstein	Adam Bland
Rich Friedman	Gary Korrub	David Neiman
Jordan Gerber	Bryan Mallin	Scott Snyder
Brad Adelman	Paul Chanan	Adam Fishman
Lee Rudy	Jon Forest	Mitch Fisher
Dan Fuhrman	Howie Schaffer	Mitch Bass
Brad Rabin	Craig Friedman	Scott Miller
Brian Cole	Andy Costello	Cary Zakon
Dan Olswang	Adam Fleischer	Andy Greenwald

Scott Serlin
Craig Callen
Alan Hochman
Ken Kramer

Bill Lindich
Mitch Goldstein
Steve Reitmeister

David Reinstein
Eric Gould
David Glick

The next step after mastering two skis is to drop one of them. This is called slaloming. In addition to dropping, some boys also accomplished deep water starts, shallow water starts, sitting and flying dock starts. This requires a great deal of balance and patience. The following boys demonstrated some or all of these skills:

Robert Master
Scott Rubin
Jim Feinstein
Tony Davis
Adam Levinson
Gary Schotz
James Atlas
David Levy
Rick Fradin
Jim Goldwasser
Greg Prebish
Jeremy Perlow
Brian Neimark
Mike Blevit
Dan Herman
Robert Frank
Mike Schechtman
Mike Hollobow
Steve Prebish
Rick Goldman

David Greenwald
Matt Belden
Ted Levine
Brad Shoemaker
Mark Leb
Mike Hochman
Jason Perlow
Cole Leavitt
Barry Munic
Jeff Spagat
Mike Manelis
Marc Roskin
Jeremy Platt
Steve Master
David Kramer
Greg Richman
Carl Rutstein
Eric Kaplan
Jeff Rissman
Scott Dimond

Brad Polan
Scott Ring
Greg Silverman
David Euer
Steve Wanty
Jeff Zeinfeld
Todd Horberg
Brian Sak
Dave Thomas
Jeff Veltman
Scott Diamond
Jeff Chason
Scott Silverman
Steve Chanan
Robert Katz
Joel Feinstein
David Goldman
Karamath Khan
Greg Berke

Other boys advanced even further - learning to do tricks like turning around, skiing backwards. Marc Roskin, Greg Richman, and Rick Goldman fell into this category.

Several people added their names to the exclusive Camp Waupaca Barefoot Club. Barefooting requires much more courage and skill than skiing on skis.

The following people joined the barefoot parade: Jeff Zeinfeld, Carl Rutstein, Greg Berke, Jeff Rissman, Marc Roskin, Greg Richman, Steve Stolz, and Lars Rahm.

All in all, it was a fine summer down at the dock. Campers and instructors alike enjoying another great waterski season at Camp Waupaca.

Steve Stolz
Waterski Director

Ken Taylor
Cody Kasten
Lars Rahm
Bill Thien
Scott Stusek
Kevin Doxtator

Tennis

A variety of coaching approaches were attempted in this summer's Camp Waupaca tennis program. During the first four weeks, the classes were small - allowing for more individual attention. During the second four weeks, the class sizes grew and we had a more group oriented program. The addition of a ball hopper helped classes run much more smoothly.

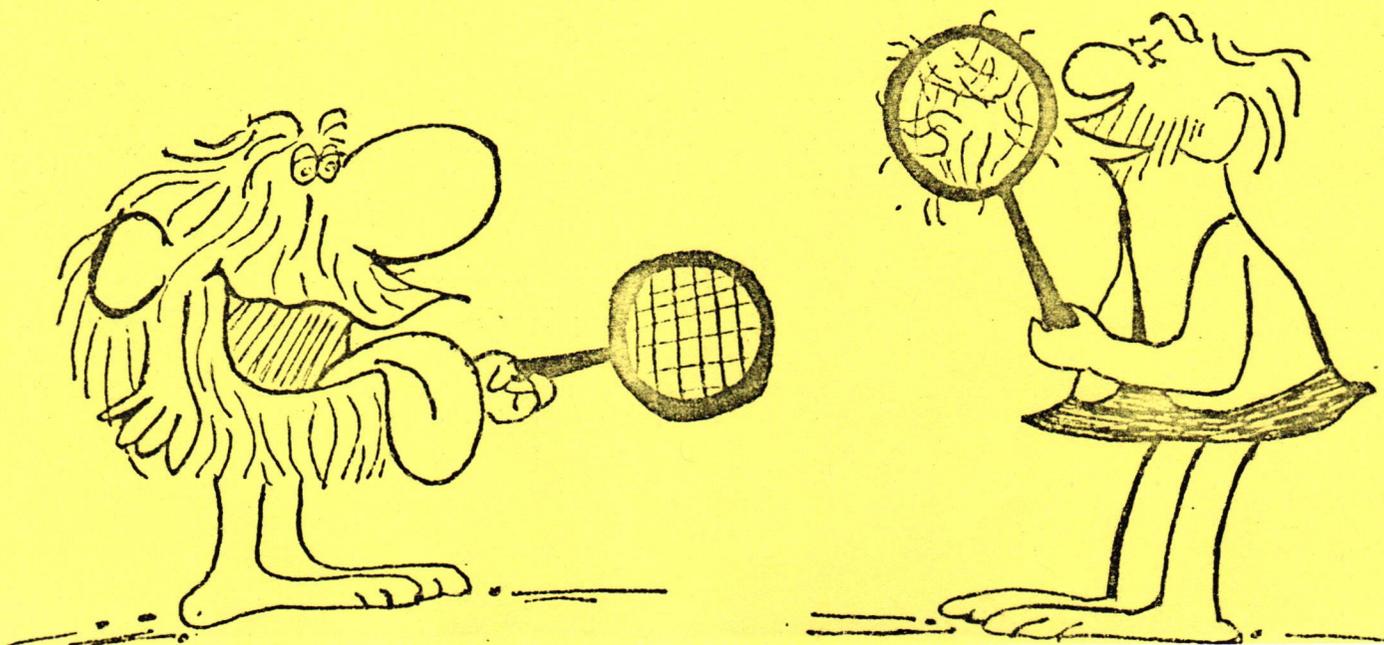

All types of drills were used: cross-court down the line drill, service line drill, and volley drills, just to name a few. We tried to work daily on improving serves, and we also added some conditioning drills that everybody just loved! Conditioning and a thorough warm-up were always stressed before play would begin.

We discovered a lot of talent in camp. Some of the top players were Dan Greenstein, Donny Schwartz, Adam Levinson, Brett Forrest, and Eric Gould. When the second four weekers arrived the competition for these boys grew even tougher. Steve Master demonstrated a very steady game. Keep working on your topspin, Steve! Yes! Both forehand and backhand!

Brian Neimark deserves special recognition for the hours he spent improving his serve, hitting bucket after bucket of balls. Speaking of serves, Brett Forrest was really ripping them all summer! Bobby Gross, Dave Glick, Paul Chanan, Jeff Wise, Steve Chanan, and Brad "Dancer" Polan all proved to be very steady players.

Showing great improvement throughout the summer were Jon Forest, David Pine, Ted Levine, Neil Rosenblum, Josh Myers, Brad Shoemaker, Adam Bland, and my doubles partner Jeff "Zeiny" Zeinfeld. Other enthusiastic players were Jeremy Platt, Rich Friedman, Gary Korrub, Scott Snyder, Jeff Veltman, Mike Ash, Sean Lager, Doug Shabelman, and Dan Fuhrman. Mitch Fisher proved to be a really hard worker - particularly on the conditioning drills!

Special attention should also be directed to Dan Greenstein and Adam Levinson. These two boys are really coachable and both were fun to work with and play against. These boys, as well as Steve Master, could someday develop into fine tournament players.

I'd like to give special thanks to Dick Rist for helping me keep my game up.

Remember guys, "Get your racket back!"

x x x x x x x x

The strategy of tennis class was pretty simple - let the campers play and instruct them along the way.

Occasionally there were rewards for the boys putting in the most time and effort. Doug Burke and Benji Schwartz each captured their share of free canteens. Other players who did well in classes were Scott Snyder, David Pine, Ted Levine, Brett Forrest, Dan Greenstein, Don Schwartz and Adam Levinson. (Adam had his revenge on one of the instructors - beating him 7-6).

During the second four weeks there were still more good tennis players to come. Steve Chanan, Brian Sak, Jon Forest, and Richard "Which Way Did It Go?" Friedman all showed a noteworthy amount of talent.

As a final note, this year our tennis program featured a "Waupaca Wimbledon" doubles tournament. After a long and brutal elimination process, the winners were Dick Rist and Jeremy Platt.

All in all, it was a good summer, and everyone had fun learning, playing, and just plain enjoying the game of tennis.

Jim Beck & Scott Batten
Resident Tennis Pros
Waupaca Country Club Courts

Waupaca Wimbledon

Greenstein/Chanan	Greenstein/Chanan	Thien/Belden	R/P
Rissman/Friedman
Kasten/Kooperman	Thien/Belden	Rist/Platt	R/P
Thien/Belden
Rist/Platt	Rist/Platt	Rist/Platt	R/P
Batten/Fuhrman
Hochman/Schaffer	Hochman/Schaffer	(players withdrew)	S/F
Lapins/Euer
Lueders/Euer	Stolz/Siegal	Schwartz/Forrest	S/F
Stolz/Siegal
Stusek/Schwartz	Stusek/Schwartz	Schwartz/Forrest	S/F
Nolan/Neimark
Adelman/Polan	Adelman/Polan	Warshauer/Levinson	bye
Krysh/Roskin
Schwartz/Forrest	Schwartz/Forrest	Beck/Zeinfeld	bye
Kaplan/Hochman
Warshauer/Levinson	Warshauer/Levinson	Beck/Zeinfeld	bye
Hollobow/Feinstein
Euer/Burke	Curley/Goldwasser	(players withdrew)	bye
Curley/Goldwasser
Goldman/Lager	(players withdrew)	Beck/Zeinfeld	bye
Metzdorff/Silverman
Lavine/Bland	Beck/Zeinfeld	Beck/Zeinfeld	bye
Beck/Zeinfeld

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND

Rist/Platt	Rist/Platt	Rist/Platt
Schwartz/Forrest	Beck/Zeinfeld	Champions!

Track

Faster than a speeding bullet...

Able to leap the Dancing Bear in a single bound...

More powerful than Dick Rist's backhand...

The kids in this year's track class were none of these - but we did have a good bunch of kids; they were eager to run, sweat, fall down, get back up and run again. (Running and riding a horse for the first time are often confused).

Due to interruptions for camping trips, we failed to accomplish all of the lofty goals we set for ourselves, but a good time was had by all who attended class. Scott (Scooter) Dimond and Karamath (K-Boom) Khan were both a great help to me in teaching the class. (Look for Karamath in next month's issue of Runner's World).

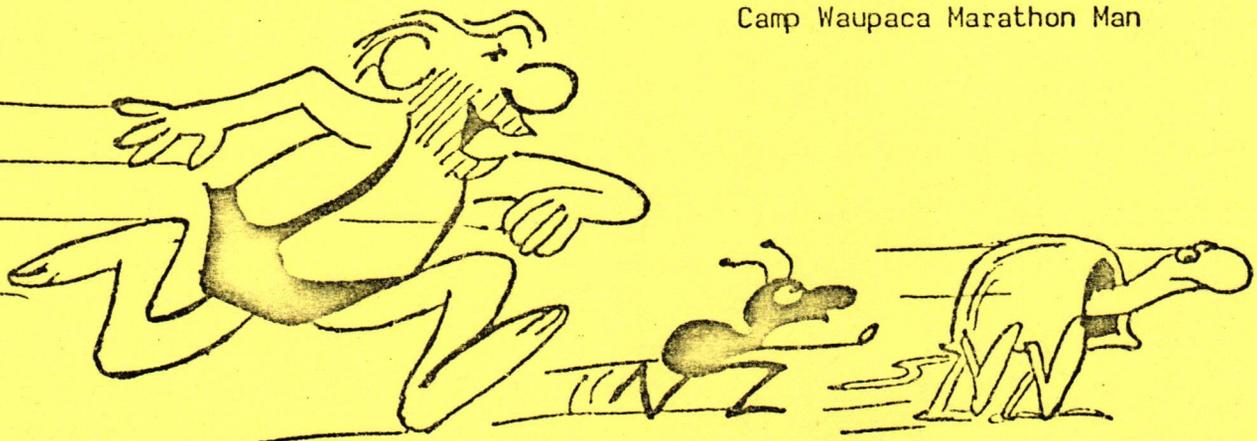

In class, we learned about different aspects of running. We learned about the importance of stretching before and after running. Toward the end of the second four weeks we worked on sprinting and starting without the aid of blocks. We ran the 50-yard dash (and Karamath's stop watch was definitely more accurate than my counting!) Josh Greenstein, Scott Rubin and Robert Master proved to be our best sprinters, all clocking good times.

Jim Feinstein and Todd Zirlin were our outstanding distance runners - both able to do a few miles with relative ease; both boys were able to run the mini-bike trail just as fast as some boys can ride it (well, maybe).

Bobby Pine and Mike Blevit also ran very well, and they were always at class eager to benefit from the day's workout. Both boys have great potential. Hopefully we have sparked an interest that will keep them running throughout the rest of the year.

I like to think that track class was as enjoyable for those who participated as it was for me to teach.

Jeff Rissman
Camp Waupaca Marathon Man

Waterfront

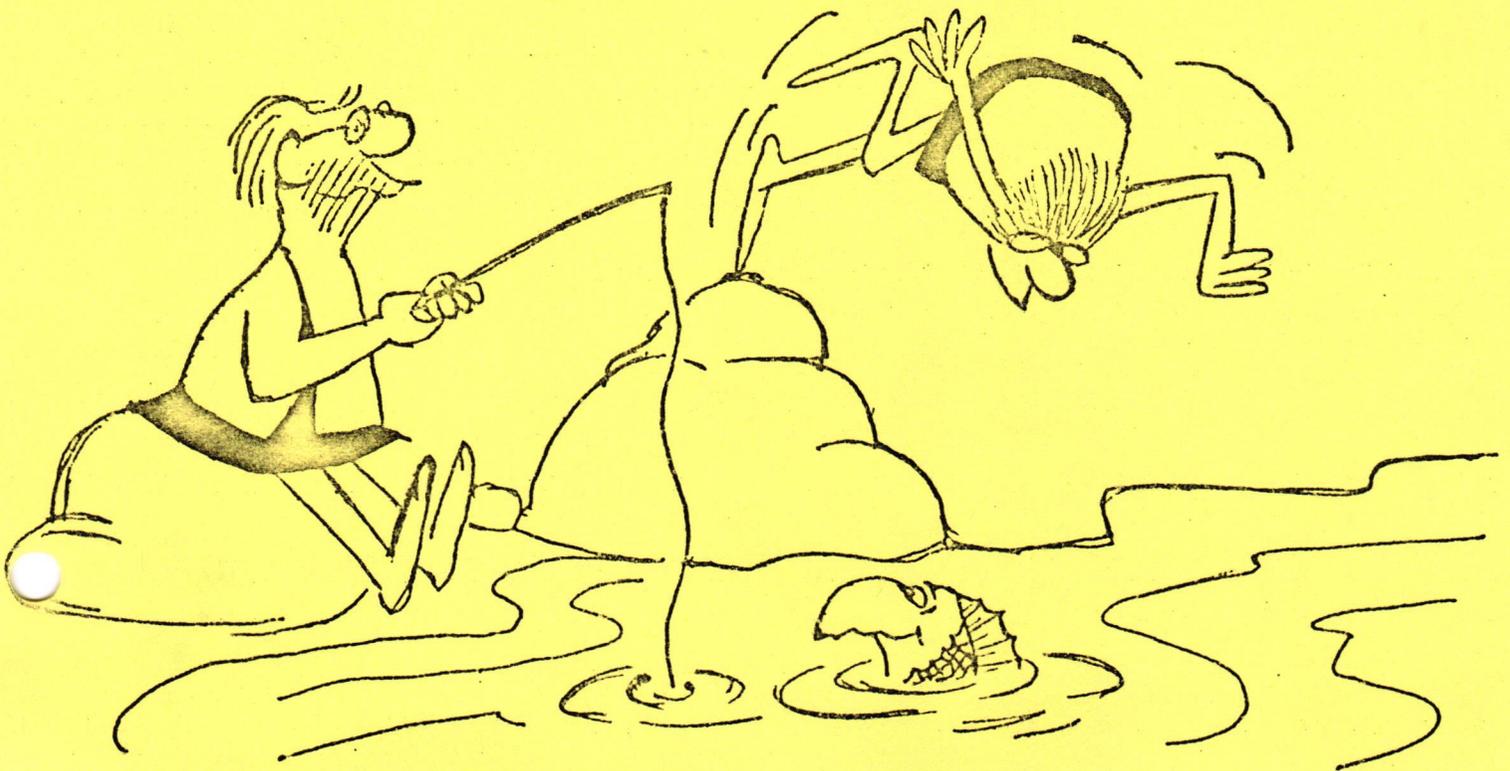

The waterfront was one of the busiest areas of camp. It includes fishing, boating, waterskiing and both free and instructional swimming. Thus each boy at camp had at least one or two contacts with the waterfront area and its staff.

No sooner than the boys had arrived in camp and had their trunks unpacked than they were instructed to go to the waterfront swimming area where each camper's swimming ability was individually evaluated, and he was placed in one of the following classes: Basic Water Safety, Beginner, Advanced Beginner, Intermediate, Swimmer, or Junior Life Saver, (Basic Rescue and Water Safety).

Every camper in cabins 1-15 attended daily classes in swimming. Then those who desired, signed up for classes in waterskiing and boating. Fishing was done on a personal basis during free time.

The waterfront was extremely busy during the last four weeks as the temperatures soared. Campers and staff alike cooled off in Little Lake Stratton as they frolicked and swam in the deliciously cool, spring-fed waters.

During free time everyone enjoyed the equipment down at the waterfront: The slide in the swim area, innertubes in the beginners area, plastic jugs, spoons, cups, and plenty of imagination on the beach, as castles and forts were designed and created in the sand. Playaks, canoes, sailboats, row-boats, and the paddleboat were all utilized to the fullest. Everyone who requested it received a ride in one of the two powerful ski boats as the lake OD toured both little lake and bigger Lake Stratton.

Many campers found enough energy, and a willing counsellor to row besides them, and swam "lakers". A laker consisted of swimming the width of Little Lake Stratton which was nearly 1/2 mile. Some boys swam two or more in a row which takes a great deal of stamina. On the following pages is a list of the campers who swam lakers and the number they achieved during the summer.

The following boys have passed the American Red Cross swimming skills as indicated.

BEGINNER SKILLS

(This diagram shows what we had to do to pass)

STEVE SMITH
MARC GOLDFINE
BRIAN FRIEDMAN
SCOTT COHEN
JOSH SILVERSTEIN
EDWARD SCHOTZ
JON GREENSPAHN
DAN FURHMAN
MITCH FISHER
RON LEVINSON
KEITH RABIN

ANDY COSTELLO
DAN HERMAN
MARC ROSKIN
BRANDON WOLF
SCOTT SIEGAL
MARK LEB
LEN BURSTYN
BRAD RABIN
STEVE OLSHER
CRAIG FRIEDMAN
MATT WANTY

BRIAN LEVY
SCOTT RUBIN
COREY ZIRLIN
JORDAN GERBER
BRAD RABIN
MIKE MACHAT
NEIL ROSENBLUM
ADAM MORE
JON GORDON
SAM GREEN

ADVANCED BEGINNER SKILLS

To pass swimmers had to demonstrate reasonable aptitude in rhythmic breathing, survival floating, (2 minutes), treading water, (30 seconds) and changing positions, elementary backstroke, (25 yards), Crawl stroke, (25 yards), diving and underwater swimming, (15 feet), use of personal floatation device, safety and rescue, first combined skills, second combined skills.

JEFF DUBOFSKY
CHUCK GARFIEN
DAVID BARR
TODD ZIRLIN
CARY ZAKON
JASON PERLOW
STEVE BROWN
JON GOLDMAN
BRIAN FIELDS
PAUL FRANK
JORDAN LEVINSON
ROBERT KAYMAN
MIKE MACHAT
JOSH SILVERSTEIN
JON GREENSPAHN
MITCH FISHER
HOWIE SCHAFFER
DAN HERMAN
MIKE ORZOFF

ALAN KAPLAN
GREG SILVERMAN
JEFF VELTMAN
ANDY GREENWALD
CRAIG FRIEDMAN
COLE LEAVITT
ERIC ROBIN
ADAM GOLDSTEIN
DAVID GREENWALD
DAVID LUNDSTROM
STEVE PEARLMAN
RICH FRIEDMAN
CHAD ROSENBERG
SCOTT COHEN
ANDY COSTELLO
DAN FURHMAN
STEVE WEINSTEIN
MARC ROSKIN

MATT BELDEN
DAVE SPIWAK
MIKE MANELIS
DAN OLSWANG
MIKE HOCHMAN
ALAN GENENDER
ADAM KOOPERMAN
MIKE JELINEK
SAM FRANK
ADAM SILVERMAN
MITCH WEISMAN
ROBERT MASTER
DOUG BURKE
EDWARD SCHOTZ
RON LEVINSON
BRIAN COLE
BILL LINDICH
DAVID KRAMER