Special Fun

Time Capsule

...its winter and the deer wander through the center of camp as if campers had never been here...they startle slightly as they hear the rustle of a clump of snow falling from the roof of the Rec Hall; other than that sound, it is silent...Lake Stratton is frozen solid and the enormous fish are sleeping, looking forward to all that cheese and bread the campers lose when they fish off the piers later in the summer...Gregg Feinstein awakes one morning and says, "I'll catch you, you big fish you!"...soon the snows melt, the deer move on, and spring comes to Waupaca...the white blanket that covered the far fields is replaced with a green carpet of tall grass and clover...the tall birch near the tennis courts begin to shimmer in the cool breezes that bring life again to Camp Waupaca...Gabe Goodman sits back after a hard day at school and says, "I can't wait to get back to Waupaca...only 149 days to go"...Warren arrives early and begins to shake the slumber from the awakening earth...Manny visits and says "all is good...lets get set for another great season...Craig Layne, Todd Goers, and Dave King Bee come prior to pre-camp and live for a few days on Salami and bread, while they take off the tarps, clean the cabins and ready camp for the rapidly approaching hordes of kids that will arrive...

...a call goes in to Keeshin Bus Company and they order the big silver buses to Montgomery Wards...The counsellors from the four corners of the earth begin arriving at camp...the staff play a name game, then move when it is Ron's turn...Craig keeps track of all the papers we get and quits after 100...lots of yard work as Warren insists we "beautify"...Bruce Fisher packs his trunk and asks if he can take his dog to camp...Adam Siegal says, "I hope its fun, this will be my first year"...He was not disappointed...Sunday June 17, D-Day arrives (Dad's Day!)...everyone gets up early and finishes packing those little extras...Ma sneaks in an extra bag of brownies and a few boxes of Kleenex...Paul Frank asks his brother for some special magazines to take to camp...Larry Shneider needs an extra trunk to bring all of his tapes...Mike Margolese boards a 747 from Los Angeles and flies to Old Orchard in time to catch the buses...Cadillacs and Porsches arrive at Montgomery Wards at 8:00 am and check in begins...Your Aunt with red lipstick plants a smacker on your cheek and embarasses you to no end...Eric Goldstein asks, "Do I have to wear this stupid name tag?"... we meet new staff Jeff Wallace at the buses, and see familiar camper...uh, counsellor Todd Goers...the bus ride takes an eternity...who is that giant kid on bus one???...He's Kevin Hoffman...Harold Alterson says quietly, "He's not a CIT?"...Through Oshkosh, through Fremont, through Parfreyville, and soon the buses pass beneath the gates of Camp Waupaca!...the waiting is over, and the summer has just begun...

"Everyone move to the Horseshoe...counsellors hep the boys".. and we hear the familiar Southern drawl of Mike Euer...We read off the cabins...Dan Oseran whines, "Am I in Cabin one AGAIN?"...The CITs are read off and Teddy says, "I'm a CIT?"...lunch is served, can you guess what it is???...Adam Moschin says, "We're having THAT for lunch?" yes its chicken...its the first day and Pat "Spanky" Marshall asks, "When's my day off?"...its competition and we play the first of many softball games...Brian McCarrall says, "My mit has a spider's web in it!"...that's OK it'll get plenty of use this year...Eric Genin asks, "Who's the cute nurse in white?"...Its Larae Hammer, another RN in the infirmary with Maxine Greenstein...Preregistration for classes, more softball, a little free time, and we're off...That first night is a little tough for the new boys, but scary stories about Silas Cropsy help pass the time...Jason Charles already misses his Coca-Cola...

Red White and Blue Track Meet is held on the far fields and a kid with an executive sounding name does well--A. J. Levin...Harold Pine begins his climb to fame as all camp champ...The CITs go into town and go to the Waterslide...The Waterfront Festival takes place...We have Camper-Counsellor look-a-likes...John Kully and Billy Abeyta...Kevin Finnegan and Josh Bender...We have a Campfire and Dave Schmitz plays guitar, Duran Duran, Breakdancing with Bobby Pine, and of course the ever-popular Sledge-o-matic...we destroy a few bass, all for $14.95...Andrea drives through to re-claim her blender..."You caint set thar...git over thar..." Mike Euer drones as he begins to print one of a million silk screened tee shirts...Its Tribes time, Gary Schotz with the Commanche, David Euer with the Illini, Mitch Bass with the Pawnee, and Harold Pine with the Blackfeet...tug of wars but no cletes, wrapping the rope, shifting motions, gloves, or a host of other rules in the International Tugo Rule Book...classes are in full operation, horseback riders hurry to the office!!, yes, Matt Silverstein, you have to wear long pants...Its the Memory Game and we have to remember the licence plate on the Italian Fruit vendors cart...The craft shop is alive with whirring saws...Kim Bakke has more lumber than Paul Bunyan...Attention, nineteenth hour Computer class and forty-third period Water ski class go to your areas now...Boating and Bailing on Lake Stratton and the Navy wants to know if Jeremy Kroner and Scott Macomber can be used as secret weapons to sink enemy ships...Staff have a meeting Sunday Afternoon and CITs are assigned to the cabins.CITs claim battle fatigue after Cabin 10 chews them up alive!!...Amateur Hour in the Performing Arts Center, David Weitzenfeld plays his "9 to 5"...Seth tells a scary story...CITs do their satire, "Busted" with Jason Kosova as Ron...

...Todd makes an announcement, "Gee, guys, wouldn't it be great to have a Camper Counsellor Tennis Tournament?"...it gets off to a great start, but...Harold Pine eats a doggie biscuit thinking its beef jerky...Ryan Jacobson goes head to head with a rock...Dave King says he'll name his first son Al Genender cause he likes the sound of it...Jon Torshen drives a beautiful 40 yards, except the ball stays and the club goes..."Nature class, please return the turtles to the lake..do NOT bring them to the kitchen we have chicken noodle soup for dinner"...Tribes skill events...Rick Poole imitates Bob Schless but won't show him...Warren gets Kosova and Kosova reads, "An Ode to Warren" in the Mess Hall, "What about that hair of yours is it real or is it fake? How does it always stay in place while you ski upon the lake?"...Grrr, its challenge Wrestling...The CITs see Romancing the Stone and meet some girls in town...Almost Anything Goes and we have the Tennis balls in the tin can event and an all camp "Do This Do That"...Tribes play Capture the Flag...Jeff Ptak, Ptak, can you say that 20 times???...Will "Wally" Statland come to the office please?...Alright, Charlie Friedberg, open that package..theres what inside???
