

CABINS

Cabin 1

Cabin one had a zest for excitement during the first four weeks of camp. One of our favorite members, Robert Resnick, was mysteriously found sleeping in his bed in the bathroom one night. To this day, no one knows how he got there. Another member of our cabin, Ryan "Sturchy" Sturch, was voted most likely to become a daredevil on water skis because of the many acrobatic spills he had this past summer. Gavin Greene was known for gambling for Gummy Bears during card games. Last, but by no means least, Joshua Salter and Bobby Schwartz were known for their constant harassment of Robert, allowing not a dull moment all summer.

During the second four weeks in Cabin One we had 11 campers: Jordan Batt, Brad Eisenberg, Ben Barnett, Robert Resnick, Benji Schwab, Aaron Siegal, Scott Zeller, Steve Millman, Brett Kaufman, Jason Drexler, & Paul Hollander. Our counsellors were Al Schambow and Cliff Broeniman. Only one camper had a nickname, Jason Drexler was known as the "little Ethiopian".

When we went to town we ate dinner at Hardee's, (food was great!) went bowling, and went to the Dairy Queen. It was fun. For Gold Rush our cabin had a waterslide. We did pretty good.

Almost everyone went on the campout. We went swimming at the beach. We roasted and made lots of things. We told ghost stories, had a little football game and went to sleep.

Brad Eisenberg is a great athlete, especially at baseball. Jordan Batt is also a great athlete especially at basketball. Ben Barnett is great working at computers. Benji Schwab has the loudest voice in the cabin. Robert Resnick is the funniest camper in the cabin. Scott Zeller is good at the ABC game and good at waterskiing. Aaron Siegal likes to read all day. Steve Millman can do anything on water skis and Brett Kaufman will try anything on skis. Jason Drexler is a little dynamo and tries to sneak in everywhere, especially under peoples' beds. Paul Hollander likes to "wear his food" on his face, and loves to wrestle in the cabin.

We all had a GREAT time at Camp Waupaca!

Cabin 2

In the second four we had a lot of fun together. Our counsellors were Dennis Bravick and Karl Ader. Our Junior Counsellor was David Euer.

Bobby Schwartz's favorite thing to do was play floor hockey and Ga Ga. Zach Strauss, "the Pumpkin" liked to water ski. Josh Salter's favorite thing was to play on the computer. Mike Rosenberg's favorite things were baseball & computers. Adam Levko loved Mini Bikes and Scott Gordon's favorite thing was skiing. Jason Lewis' favorite thing was golf while Evan Swidler loved to go fast on the Mini Bikes. Loren Friedman loved softball and Danny Barbakoff's passion was tennis.

When we did the Counsellor Hunt, we had fun even though we didn't catch anybody. When we to town we went to Hardee's instead of the Wheelhouse. Then we went bowling and bowled two games. Last but not least, we went to the Dairy Queen and got big Blizzard ice creams. And that was the summer of '86 for the second four weekers.

Cabin 3

In our cabin we had a few slobs, a late waker-upper, three comic book lovers, a camper who got a package every other day, an all day sleeper, a camper with a big temper, a camper who loved to put blankets over his head, a camper with a warehouse of candy, and a CIT who was a grouch.

Our cabin didn't have very good inspection scores but our high was 89! We had fun on the campout but one tent fell down. We did have a great pair of counsellors, though. Thanks Jason & Mike!

Cabin 4

Never in the history of this grand camp has such a distinguished group of campers and staff been placed under one roof. Our first four weekers were: "Jumpin'" Jordan Parker, Jon "Hey Boy" Seed, Bobby "Tickled" Hirsch, Adam "Buff" Kroll, Tom "Mouth" Berkson, CIT Eric "Towel-tied" Goldstein, and counsellors Mike "'Roids" Scharmer and Ken "100 Times" Lapins.

Throughout the first four weeks, just about every camper fell out of a top bunk. We had to switch beds at least ten times. It didn't help. All throughout the first four, we had a problem with inspections, due mainly to the fact that Eric Goldstein always left his towel in the bathroom (along with several unmentionable items of clothing), and that Jon Seed never made his bed. We had daily "shelf and floor patrols," but they were little help. We were comfortable, and that's what's important.

Throughout the first four, we had mainly visitors in cabin four. Besides nightly visits from our mischievous pal Dennis Bravick, Mike Christ, Steve Wanty, and Jon Torshen visited us. We had nightly shower guests, too. Ed Schotz, Justin Parker, and Al Genender regularly visited the fine showers of Cabin Four. Bobby Hirsch's far from ordinary teddy bear also honored us with its presence.

Cabin nights were also memorable. Our fire was always the last to be lit; Ken Lapins felt that real campers didn't need lighter fluid. After our first trip to town, we went star gazing until at least 1:00. We saw shooting stars, and Ken tried to give us a physics lesson. One night, we even successfully raided the kitchen. Unfortunately, Mike Scharmer's body converted all the sugar into gas. What a night.

So, from the first day, when we played pick-up basketball, to the last day of the first four, cabin four was a place full of laughs, fun, and friends.

The second four weeks had a whole new set of campers. Our counsellors, Ken Lapins & Rob Everman were set and ready to help us unpack and get settled from moment one. Our campers were Josh "Rob's Teddy Bear" Levitt, Ian "I have a maid" Greendale, Matt "I'll sue if you tickle me" Simon, David "GPK" Hesser, Robert "Pictorial Magazines Berland, Matt "Mail" Abrams, Danny "Broken Glasses" Shapiro, Mike "Eric's Brother" Schneider, Brian "Scott's Brother" Eggener, David "No Ghost stories" Smoller, & Jordy "Electronic baseball" Pockross.

Unfortunately, and against the strongest pleadings from our counsellors, we were not the cleanest cabin in the camp. One afternoon inspection, we actually got a Zero. We almost missed a trip to town but we got a 94 the next day.

In town, when we were going to have pizza on the porch of the Wheelhouse, we had some rain--we went to Hardee's, and had fun bowling. Some of us played darts with Ken instead of bowling. Lastly we went to Dairy Queen where Danny Shapiro bought a teddy bear.

We also had a campout one night. We played football, baseball, cooked our dinner on an open fire, and went swimming. That night, Dennis told us very scary ghost stories that kept us on our toes all night.

We also had fun in our cabin. Once we had a waterfight with Cabin Five. We remember the time that someone almost burned down the cabin with his soup maker. For our memories we used tic tac toe boards that had pictures just as hot as the soup maker.

So, dear readers, as you can plainly see Cabin Four--either four weeks--was a great cabin, a fun cabin, and a friendly cabin!

Cabin 5

The kids in Cabin Five were Josh Reich, Danny Kaiserman, David Klow, Jon Shulkin, Ross Friedman, Andy Ettinger, David Engle, Ronnie Goldberg, Kevin Berger, & Brad Schneider.

Josh or "sexy legs" was a great snorer. Danny had enough gum to last him an entire year, and had strange taste in music. David was a lucky poker player and usually had more than one canteen a night. Jon wasn't as lucky. Ross & Andy hung out together and were the winning captains in our cabin challenges. David was better known as the "grubber rubber." Ronnie was the cabin champion in rafter ball, and Kevin was one of the coolest kids in the cabin, (he had a fan). Brad was known as Pee Wee Herman's double.

Our counsellors Mike Lenz & Sam Golpers never expected a cabin like ours. I think everyone had a great and memorable summer.

Cabin 6

The first four week campers in Cabin Six were the tops. One of the brightest highlights was sleeping in the teepee on the Fourth of July. We also had a campout with our counsellor, Mike Lenz. We even got to raid the kitchen one night.

The campers included Jon "The Fly" Kaulentis, Mike "Father of Fang" Christ, Jason "Wrestlemania" Abraham, and Andy "Wildman" Zann. Our cabin CIT was "Romeo" Scott Rubin. David "Dad" Euer was our junior counsellor; our counsellors were Rob "Vertical Collar" Heath, and Mike "The Beach Bum Rocker" Lenz."

We had fun, we made friends, we had "Grimaces", we did some dumb things, but we had fun. What a summer!

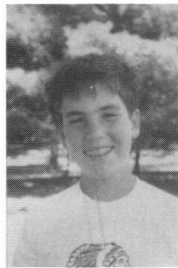

In the great Cabin Six during the second four weeks there were Rob Heath, Dane Wilson, Scott Rubin, Brian Jacobs, Matt Stock, Scott Hammerman, Jeff Bloomberg, Keith Radeke, Adam Cantor, Ryan Lefton, Ken Mazursky, Scott Segal, and Eric Marder. We had a special guest, too, Alfred E. Gnarly, who Jeff kept with him in a styrofoam cup above his bed.

The Living Juke Box won as best booth for Gold Rush Day. The boys proved themselves to be clever and artistic. They were true campers and proved they were athletic on the soccer fields, baseball diamonds, and on the beach. In cabin challenges we won against Cabin 7 by a score of 16-3. The campers conversed with each other very well in the middle of the night. Over all they were a lot of fun and a nice lot of guys. Cabin Six had a great time at Camp Waupaca.

Cabin 7

What follows is an account of a typical morning in the Jewel of Waupaca, Cabin Seven.

Mike Euer: Good Morning, men!
No one in the cabin moves.
John Everman: Weitzenfeld! Get out of that bed!
Jim DeVries: Yeah.
Eric Fine: Blech! Wake me up in 15 minutes.
David
Weitzenfeld: No way. I'm not leaving my bunk.
John: Die, maggot!
David: EEEK!
Matt
Silverstein: Get him, John!
Jim: Yeah.
Mike
Margolese: Quiet!
Matt: Have a cow!
Cole Klapman: "Snore, snore."
Alex Jacobs: I'm getting out of bed.
Jon Levy: Groan... Let me take monster off.
John: Alright. All campers out of bed. NOW!
Jim: Yeah.
Eric: I'm a CIT, so I'm sleeping.

Eric sleeps until flagpole. David gets tipped by Jon Levy, and arrives at the flagpole area just seconds before the cabin's usually bizarre salute. This morning, Cream of Broccoli soup gets the tip of the hat, and a special thanks for being "smooth, creamy, delicious; complete nutrition in a single bowl."

During the second four weeks, our Cabin consisted of Corey Harris, Cole Klapman, Mike Woshlstadter, Matt Silverstein, Howie Neuman, Judd Fox, Alex Jacobs, Chad Spivak, Andy Sternberg, Jon Newman, & Michael Margolese. When we went to town, we saw the Karate Kid, Part II. We also ate pizza at the Wheelhouse, and ice cream at the Dairy Queen.

Another Typical Cabin 7 Morning:

Mike Euer comes in screaming, "Good Morning Men of Cabin Seven," but no one moves. Then he starts tickling Corey. When Mike leaves, Howie falls out of bed. Matt says: That was fate! Alex says: "Shut Up!" Meanwhile Corey & Judd think about who will raise the flag at flagpole. After every activity, best friends Cole & Chad come in fighting. Rest hour is filled with video games, books, and letters. At the end of the week we wait for the results of the cleanest cabin award. The prize is a root beer float for everyone in the cabin.

Our counsellors were John Everman & Jim DeVries.
